APPEAL

Help! I Need Your Wine Corks for a Genius Project!

I have a brilliant summer plan... I'm going to make a fly curtain! But not just any fly curtain. No, this will be an epic fly curtain made out of 900 wine corks. An ode to the good life, summer, and... wine.

Now, you might be thinking, "900 corks? That should be doable, right? Eveline probably drinks enough wine for this project." And yes, I am an avid wine enthusiast who never lets a good glass of Sauvignon or Rioja pass me by. But even my love for wine doesn't get me anywhere near 900 corks. Even if I spent the next few months drinking day and night (which, let's be honest, is not a great idea), I still wouldn't make it.

So, dear community and friends, will you help me? If you also enjoy a good glass of wine, please save those corks for me. You could save my summer—and help me create a fly curtain that's not only functional but also a fantastic conversation piece at parties.

Why a fly curtain made of corks?

First of all: why not? It's sustainable, it looks amazing, and it's a perfect way to combine practicality with creativity. Plus, how fun will it be to look at that curtain later and think, "Hey, there's the cork from that one party with my Chardonnay!"

How can you help?

It's simple. Save your corks and hand them to me at the next dance evening or class. Got a whole collection already? Feel free to bring them along—I'll accept them with open arms (and a big bag). No swing dance plans in the near future? Send me a message, and we'll work something out.

What's in it for you?

Aside from my eternal gratitude and the satisfaction of being part of an iconic project? Well, once the curtain is complete, you're absolutely welcome to come and admire it... with or without a glass of wine in hand.

So, my dear dance friends: help a wine-loving, cork-collecting, fly-curtain-ambitious woman out. Together, we can make this project a smashing success. Cork by cork.

Thank you in advance, and... cheers! 🍷

Love,
Eveline
